A landscape photograph of a mountain range at night. The sky is dark with numerous stars and a few faint, glowing lines from meteors or satellites. In the foreground, there are dark, silhouetted mountain peaks. A bright, orange glow from a city or a fire at the base of the mountains illuminates the lower part of the scene. Overlaid on this image is a large, white, bold text quote: "Life is not about how many times you fall down. It's about how many times you get back up." Below the quote, in a smaller white box, is the name "Jaime Escalante". At the very bottom center, there is a small, semi-transparent logo for "quotefancy".

Life is not about how many times you fall down. It's about how many times you get back up.

Jaime Escalante

THE RIGHTEOUS FALL SEVEN TIMES AND GET UP (Pr. 24:16)

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

-Albert Einstein

All these people were still living by faith when they died. They did not receive the things promised; they only saw them and welcomed them from a distance, admitting that they were foreigners and strangers on earth.

Hebrews 11:13

WINSTON CHURCHILL

Success is not final,
failure is not fatal:
it is the courage to continue that counts.

2 Timothy 4:7 WEB
I have fought the good fight. I have finished the course. I have kept the faith.

OUR SPIRITUAL CLIMB UP GOD'S MOUNTAIN

1 Corinthians 9:25 KJV

And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.
