Festival Assistance Jar—2016

We are already collecting funds to help our international membership with next year's Feast of Tabernacles-216. Every year we slowly but surely collect coins that build and build to a point where we are able to help fellow members in such far off locations such as Colombia, Bolivia, Cameroon, Ghana, Benin, Togo, Malawi, Zambia, Kenya, Benin, Nigeria and Mexico. These funds basically go towards basic necessities such as transportation to the feast sites, fresh water, generators to maintain electrical power, building facilities to worship in, plus some just plain fun things to do during the festivals that otherwise could not occur. Our festival jar is on the information table. It awaits your visit ☺.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT FROM THE PASTOR

Thoughts towards Father's Day 2016

I would like to share a passage from one of my favorite writers, Leroy Brownlow, from his book entitled Today is Mine. It comes from the entry of June 16.

Father's Greatest Job

Training his children is the world's highest calling for any man. Gravest responsibilities. Greatest possibilities. For in teaching the better principles, father develops in his children the better character.

The best children, like the prettiest flowers and the sweetest music, are made by cultivation. The most fragrant flowers do not grow wild. The most beautiful music does not just happen. And the sweetest youth does not grow up pampered by his parents and directed by self. It takes the dedicated mind and the determined hand of cultivation to bring out the best. And here the wise father performs his greatest job.

Proverbs 1:8 - "My son, hear the instruction of your father."
